Emergency Health Care to Students

The district shall provide emergency health care which is reasonably necessary for the health of a student entrusted to the care of the district.

Emergency health care includes resuscitation. Resuscitation means an attempt to restore life or consciousness after apparent death.

A refusal to provide life-sustaining emergency care to a student in need of such care would be a denial of educational services. No employee of the district shall comply with any directive from parents or others, written or verbal, that life-sustaining emergency care be withheld from a student in need of such care while under the control and supervision of district staff.
